

Celtic Advanced Life Science Innovation Network

From: 27 Mar 2017 , 11:00AM To: 28 Mar 2017 , 08:30PM Tyndall National Institute

The Tyndall National Institute will host the launch of a unique networking & business development opportunity for life science businesses across Ireland and Wales on 27th & 28th March 2017.

The Celtic Advanced Life Science Innovation Network (CALIN), funded by the Wales-Ireland programme 2014-2020 through ERDF, is a unique network of world-leading higher education institutes and global market leaders, that will provide access to emerging technologies; expertise, knowledge and skills; routes to market; and venture forums and technology workshops.

With keynotes from world-leading academics and industry experts, the CALIN launch event is an opportunity for businesses to present their development challenges, and discuss the solutions CALIN can provide.

Full agenda can be viewed here. Register here