

---

Current Vacancies

Thank you for your interest in Tyndall National Institute, University College Cork.

We are committed to attracting, retaining and developing a highly talented workforce to ensure our ambition to become the world premier Information and Communications Technology research institute, generating economic impact through excellence in research.

If you are interested in being part of our growing organisation, please navigate through our current listed vacancies and submit your application following the instructions contained herein.

The following opportunities are now open at Tyndall:

- Administrative/Technical Opportunities
- Research Opportunities
- Scholarship Postgraduate Opportunities

By submitting your completed application form, you are authorising the Institute to contact any third party referee mentioned in your application and to request copies of your academic transcripts and/or verify the authenticity of your qualifications with the academic institutions/awarding body listed in your application form.

If you do not wish for your current employer to be contacted prior to interview you should not include as a referee at application stage, however any offer of employment will be made subject to the receipt of satisfactory references (including a reference from your current employer which will be sought prior to a formal offer if not already available).

By submitting your completed application form and any associated documentation, you are declaring that the information you are furnishing is factually correct. Should any of the information provided in the application or associated documentation be found to be false or inaccurate in any material way, the Institute reserves the right to withdraw any offer of employment or if you have commenced employment, to terminate your employment.